WHA DEVELOPMENT DEPARTMENT SPOTLIGHT: BUILDING WILMINGTON'S FUTURE

"EVERY NEW DEVELOPMENT REPRESENTS MORE THAN HOUSING. IT'S AN INVESTMENT IN WILMINGTON'S FUTURE."

— Andrew Johnson, Director of Development

Leading the Way in Housing Development

At the Wilmington Housing Authority (WHA), the Development Department plays a pivotal role in shaping the physical landscape of affordable housing across the city. Under the direction of Andrew Johnson, this dynamic team manages and oversees all development initiatives, from new construction and modernization to environmental remediation and infrastructure upgrades.

Supporting this mission are Administrative Assistant Shante Watson and Project Managers Bernard (Bernie) Smelstoys and Felix Wilkins, along with Inspector and Project Manager Duilio (Leo) Vitale, whose attention to detail ensures that every project meets WHA's high standards of safety, quality, and long-term sustainability.

A Decade of Progress and Investment

Between 2015 and 2024, more than $98 million has been invested in new development and renovation projects. These efforts have strengthened communities, preserved affordable housing, and modernized WHA's portfolio to meet the evolving needs of residents.

Building for the Future

Looking ahead, the Development Department continues to lead WHA's efforts to expand and improve affordable housing opportunities across Wilmington. Upcoming priorities include:

- Revitalizing Northeast Wilmington and long-term vacant scattered sites
- Expanding affordable housing options in higher-income areas
- Converting Asbury Gardens into transitional housing
- Eliminating environmental hazards such as mold, asbestos, and lead
- Investing in green infrastructure to reduce energy costs and improve efficiency
- Reusing or redeveloping the Central Office and warehouse sites following relocation to 321 East 11th Street

A Collaborative Effort for Community Growth

The Development Department's impact extends beyond WHA, it supports the mission of the Delaware Affordable Housing Group (DAHG), WHA's nonprofit affiliate. Through DAHG, the department identifies new funding sources, builds public and private partnerships, and advances innovative housing initiatives that strengthen neighborhoods citywide.

Driving WHA's Mission Forward

Each project undertaken by the Development Department reflects WHA's enduring commitment to providing safe, affordable, and high-quality housing for Wilmington residents. Their work, marked by strategic investment, sustainability, and community vision, stands as a cornerstone of WHA's success and future growth.

DEPARTMENT SPOTLIGHT: COMMUNICATIONS & STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS – TELLING THE STORY, CONNECTING THE MISSION

At the Wilmington Housing Authority, clear communication and strong community connections are essential to fulfilling our mission and the Communications & Strategic Partnership Department leads that charge. Under the leadership of Chief of Staff, Sandra Countley, this department serves as the connective tissue between WHA's programs, the public, and our residents. It includes three integral areas: Communications, the Workforce Development Team, and the Premier Rapid Housing Placement Team. Together, these teams work to share WHA's impact, empower residents, and build collaborative relationships that support long-term housing stability and self-sufficiency.

Through strategic messaging and media efforts, the Communications function ensures that WHA's programs, services, and success stories reach a broad audience. Whether through newsletters, press releases, or digital content across social media platforms, this team plays a key role in raising awareness and celebrating the progress of both residents and staff. Meanwhile, the Workforce Development Team helps WHA residents move toward economic independence by connecting them to industry-recognized training, employment resources, and career pathways. These programs provide practical tools to help participants secure stable employment, while also contributing to the economic vitality of the broader Wilmington community.

One of the department's most impactful services is the Premier Rapid Housing Placement Team, which has helped over 400 households secure safe, stable, and affordable housing over the past three years. The team works intensively with individuals and families to identify housing options that meet their specific needs, often under urgent circumstances. Their success reflects a client-first approach rooted in compassion, coordination, and strong follow-through. This work is more than just housing placement, it is a direct expression of WHA's commitment to housing as a foundation for stability, dignity, and growth.

At the core of each of these areas is the department's deep focus on partnerships. As outlined in WHA's Strategic Plan, "a strong portfolio of partners will ensure that WHA continues to develop and maintain affordable housing and deliver high-quality housing-related services." Whether working with government agencies, nonprofit service providers, or commercial organizations, the Communications & Strategic Partnership Department actively cultivates trusted relationships that expand our reach and deepen our impact. These partnerships help us connect residents to the services they need, housing, education, employment, and more, ensuring WHA remains not just a housing provider, but a bridge to opportunity.

A NEW CHAPTER OF COMMUNITY INVESTMENT ON WILMINGTON'S EAST SIDE

Wilmington Housing Authority proudly celebrates the successful transformation of 321 East 11th Street, an achievement driven by its non-profit affiliate, the Delaware Affordable Housing Group (DAHG). This week's celebratory countdown and ribbon-cutting highlighted a thoughtfully restored building that stands as a symbol of DAHG's commitment to revitalizing the East Side. The renovation honors the history of this longstanding neighborhood landmark while positioning it as a catalyst for expanded opportunity, access, and community renewal.

WHA is especially proud to now call this location home. Relocating our headquarters to 321 East 11th Street reflects our dedication to investing directly in the communities we serve and aligning ourselves with partners equally committed to resident well-being. Sharing this revitalized space with the Delaware Black Chamber of Commerce strengthens a collective approach to economic growth, service delivery, and collaboration across Wilmington. The excitement within the building and throughout the neighborhood underscores the significance of this milestone.

This transformation represents the beginning of a broader vision for the East Side. Future plans under consideration include healthcare services, food and entertainment options, and other community-centered amenities designed to bring vital resources closer to residents. As stakeholders toured the renovated space, their enthusiasm affirmed the project's impact. Wilmington Housing Authority is honored to be part of this momentum and proud to celebrate this milestone alongside DAHG as we support continued progress for Wilmington's East Side.

McMullen Square Townhomes was created with families and the broader community in mind. The success of this project is a testament to the power of collaboration. Through WHA's partnership with DAHG and the support of dedicated community stakeholders, McMullen Square demonstrates how coordinated planning, shared resources, and strategic partnerships can advance innovation in housing and expand pathways for economic opportunity. "I changed my mindset about spending unnecessary money and focused on saving more," she said. I also learned a great deal from the Neighborhood House First-Time Homebuyer class. Now, I'm more disciplined and stay focused on my goals."

Throughout her time in the program, Erica found that the structure, support, and accountability provided by her FSS Coordinator made all the difference. "My coordinator (Nakia Wallace) encouraged me every step of the way. When I got off track, she contacted me or sent me an email to remind me to stay focused and continue moving forward."

Her advice to others working toward self-sufficiency is simple but powerful: "Stay consistent and never give up when things get difficult. Stay in touch with your coordinator, take advantage of all the resources available, and let your success speak for itself."

The Family Self-Sufficiency Program is one of WHA's key initiatives designed to help residents set and achieve goals toward economic independence, including credit improvement, employment advancement, and homeownership.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP BRINGS HEALTH AND WELLNESS TO PARK VIEW RESIDENTS

On Friday, October 31, Wilmington Housing Authority (WHA) residents at The Park View Apartments received valuable health services through a community partnership with Salesianum High School and ACME Pharmacy. The event, coordinated by WHA Services Coordinator Desired Castro, offered residents convenient access to vaccinations in a welcoming, supportive environment. Two pharmacists from ACME, joined by School Nurse Amy Dumas DeDonato and three volunteer students from Salesianum, including student leader Declan Takam, administered vaccines and guided residents through the process. A total of 28 residents participated in the vaccination clinic, which took place from 11:00 AM to 1:00 PM and included complimentary snacks provided by the students.

This initiative exemplifies the impact of community collaboration in supporting resident health and wellness. By working closely with Salesianum High School, located directly across from Park View, and ACME Pharmacy, WHA continues to expand access to preventive healthcare services for its residents. Plans are already underway to bring similar vaccination events to other WHA communities. Partnerships like these not only enhance public health but also strengthen the connections between WHA residents and the broader Wilmington community.

COMMUNITY BULLETIN BOARDS RECEIVE EXCITING UPGRADES ACROSS WHA COMMUNITIES

Wilmington Housing Authority continues its efforts to enhance resident engagement and self-sufficiency through the ongoing upgrades of Community Bulletin Boards in WHA communities. These updated boards provide residents with up-to-date, easily accessible resources and information to support their daily needs and personal growth. In September, new boards were completed at Baynard and The Parkview. Desired Castro, Resident Services Coordinator, shared that the outreach enhancements have been well received, offering meaningful opportunities to connect with residents one-on-one and in small groups while completing the installations.

At The Parkview, with assistance from Ms. Miriam and the Resident Council, residents expressed joy and appreciation for the refreshed display—especially a custom artwork reading “Senior Lives Matter — Respect, Love, and Care for Our Elders.” The new bulletin boards not only brighten shared spaces but also strengthen WHA’s connection with residents by ensuring vital information remains visible and current. WHA WELLNESS CALLERS GATHER FOR FALL TRAINING AT THE PARKVIEW

In September 2025, the Wilmington Housing Authority (WHA) hosted its Fall Wellness Checker Training Meeting at The Parkview community room, bringing together dedicated Callers, WHA staff, and community partners Christiana Care and Silver Lining Healthcare to share updates and resources. A buffet lunch encouraged connection and celebration as Callers shared inspiring stories about the program’s impact, both on participants and themselves. Between June and September 2025, Callers made more than 9,300 wellness calls, serving 37 participants across WHA communities. DELAWARE PHAS INTRODUCE UNIFIED ELECTRONIC SYSTEM TO STRENGTHEN LANDLORD PARTNERSHIPS

Delaware's public housing authorities reached a significant milestone on November 1, 2025, with the launch of a unified, statewide electronic process for landlords participating in the Housing Choice Voucher (HCV) program. Through the Delaware Housing Access Association (DHAA), a collaborative effort among the Delaware State Housing Authority, Wilmington Housing Authority, New Castle County, Dover Housing Authority, and Newark Housing Authority—agencies have standardized key components of the HCV lease-up process to improve efficiency and service delivery. Central to this effort is the new statewide landlord portal, accessible at delaware.affordablehousing.com/landlords, which offers a streamlined experience for property owners navigating the voucher program.

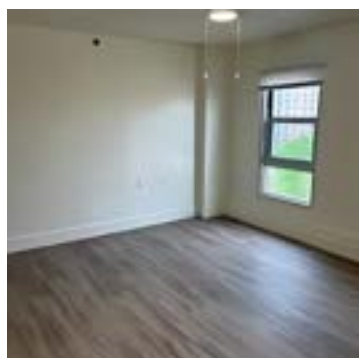

As part of this system, an Electronic Request for Tenancy Approval (RFTA) Submission Process has been introduced, marking a major step forward in modernizing Delaware's housing operations. For Wilmington Housing Authority, this advancement strengthens partnerships with current and prospective landlords by reducing administrative burdens and ensuring a consistent, faster, and more transparent leasing experience. The new electronic RFTA process enhances accessibility for landlords and supports voucher holders by accelerating the path to housing stability, reflecting WHA's ongoing commitment to efficient, resident-centered service delivery.
