The Wilmington Housing Authority (WHA) proudly recognizes and celebrates the remarkable accomplishments of Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) Program participant, Linette Marshall, whose journey reflects determination, growth, and a steadfast commitment to building a stronger future.

Through her participation in the FSS Program and dedicated engagement with Resident Services Service Coordinator Nakia Wallace, Linette has achieved significant milestones that exemplify the impact of focused goal-setting, financial discipline, and continuous personal development.

Linette's journey is one of transformation. As shared in her graduation testimony, she began the program facing financial challenges, including debt and limited savings. However, through consistent participation in WHA's financial literacy workshops and adherence to practical budgeting strategies, she made measurable progress. Linette increased her credit score by an impressive 187 points, strengthened her savings, paid off her vehicle in full, and successfully addressed past credit delinquencies, laying a solid financial foundation for long-term stability.

Beyond financial growth, Linette demonstrated a strong commitment to education and professional advancement. She earned multiple certifications, including case management credentials and a Delaware Department of Education Paraeducator Permit, equipping her with the skills necessary to pursue a stable and meaningful career. Her accomplishments also include completing workforce training and participating in professional development opportunities that support her career pathway in human services .

Today, Linette is employed with Sojourner's Place, where she continues to build her career as a Case Manager, applying her lived experiences and training to support others in the community. Her journey reflects not only personal achievement but also a commitment to giving back, an essential component of true self-sufficiency.

In her own words, Linette describes the program as "transformative," emphasizing that success was built through consistent effort, accountability, and a willingness to embrace change. She highlights that self-sufficiency is not only about finances, but also about mindset, growth, and resilience, an important message for all residents considering their own path forward.

The WHA Resident Services team commends Linette for her perseverance and dedication. Her accomplishments serve as a powerful example of what can be achieved through partnership, access to resources, and a clear vision for the future.

Congratulations, Linette Marshall. Your success is well-earned and continues to inspire others within the WHA community to pursue their goals, invest in their growth, and take meaningful steps toward self-sufficiency.

WHA IT & SECURITY ATTEND T-MOBILE EXECUTIVE BRIEFING IN NEW YORK CITY

Wilmington Housing Authority's IT & Security team recently attended a T-Mobile Executive Briefing in New York City to learn about emerging technology solutions that can support WHA's operations and long-term goals. T-Mobile has made significant investments in Delaware's network, improving coverage, reliability, and capacity. These enhancements create a strong foundation for WHA to expand the use of modern technology across our communities.

As a result of the briefing, WHA is exploring solutions such as smart video monitoring, sensor-based systems for maintenance (e.g., leak detection and air quality), and asset tracking. These tools have the potential to improve resident safety, reduce maintenance costs through early issue detection, and provide real-time data to support better decision-making. As WHA continues to modernize, these technologies can help us operate more efficiently, respond more quickly to resident needs, and build a safer, more connected housing environment.

PROTECTING YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION: SIMPLE STEPS FOR SAFER COMMUNICATION

In today's digital world, protecting your personal information is more important than ever. Whether you are using email, a smartphone, or a computer, taking a few simple precautions can help keep your information safe from unauthorized access.

Personal Identifiable Information (PII) includes details that can be used to identify you, such as:

- Your full name
- Social Security number
- Bank or financial information
- Address or phone number

If this information is shared the wrong way, it could be used without your permission.

Be Careful When Using Email

Email is a convenient way to communicate, but it is not always secure for sending sensitive information. Avoid sending personal or sensitive information through email whenever possible. Even if you trust the recipient, email can sometimes be intercepted or accessed by others. Safer ways to provide important documents or personal details:

- Hand-deliver documents when possible
- Share information in person at the office
- Confirm you are giving information directly to the intended recipient

These steps help ensure your information stays private and secure.

If email is the only option, adding encryption can help protect your message. If you are using Microsoft Outlook or a Microsoft 365 account, you can:

1. Start a new email
2. Click on the "Options" tab
3. Select "Encrypt"

By using the above steps, it will:

- Protect the message while being sent
- intended recipient can open and read it
- Some recipients may need a temporary passcode to access attachments securely

When using electronic communication, keep in mind the following safety tips

- Never share personal information with unknown senders
- Double-check email addresses before sending information
- Use strong passwords and keep them private
- When in doubt, do not send, ask first

Protecting your personal information is a shared responsibility. By taking a few extra steps, you can help prevent identity theft and keep your information safe.

If you have questions or need assistance, please contact your property management office for guidance.

LOOKING BACK: HONORING VOLUNTEER MONTH AND THE POWER OF GIVING BACK

As we move into May, Wilmington Housing Authority reflects on the impact and importance of April's Volunteer Month, a time dedicated to recognizing the value of service and the role it plays in building stronger communities.

Volunteerism is a powerful tool for both personal growth and community development. For individuals, giving back can foster a sense of purpose, build new skills, and create meaningful connections. For communities, it strengthens support systems, uplifts neighbors, and helps address critical needs. This shared exchange of support is essential to creating thriving, resilient neighborhoods.

At Wilmington Housing Authority, volunteerism aligns closely with our commitment to encouraging self-sufficiency and community engagement. Acts of service, whether large or small, contribute to a culture of care, collaboration, and opportunity for all residents.

For those inspired to get involved beyond Volunteer Month, the State of Delaware Office of Volunteerism offers a valuable resource through its online platform, Volunteer Delaware. This site connects individuals with a wide range of service opportunities across the state, making it easy to find ways to contribute based on your interests, skills, and availability.

Whether it is mentoring youth, supporting local organizations, or participating in community events, there are opportunities for everyone to make a difference. Volunteerism is not limited to one month; it is an ongoing opportunity to strengthen both ourselves and the communities we serve.

As we look ahead, we encourage residents, staff, and partners to continue embracing the spirit of service. Together, through consistent and collective effort, we can create lasting, positive change.

PRHPT: A TRUSTED HUB FOR HOUSING SOLUTIONS

The Premier Rapid Housing Placement Team (PRHPT), under the Delaware Affordable Housing Group, continues to demonstrate the power of strong community partnerships and consistent outreach in achieving meaningful housing outcomes. As Supervisor, Wayne Jefferson, emphasizes, awareness is a critical component of service delivery—organizations can only assist those who know they exist. PRHPT has successfully bridged that gap through ongoing engagement across communities statewide, ensuring individuals and families are connected to essential housing resources. Their role as a central hub for housing referrals reflects the trust they have built among partners and the broader community, allowing them to deliver comprehensive, no-cost services that go above and beyond traditional support.

This commitment is evident in a recent success story, where PRHPT received a referral from Brother Odom, a van driver at Canaan Baptist Church, seeking assistance for a client with a SRAP voucher. Within just one week, the team successfully secured safe and affordable housing for Ms. Yvonne Jones—an outcome that highlights both efficiency and dedication. PRHPT team members consistently demonstrate a high level of care in their work, conducting thorough housing searches and, when needed, connecting clients to funding and additional supportive resources. Their holistic approach ensures that each placement is not only successful but sustainable, reinforcing their mission to provide safe, secure, and affordable housing solutions across the state.

Those in need of placement assistance, interested community partners and landlords can reach the team by calling 302-429-6701 or email dahgresource@whadelaware.org.

April placements were primarily Wilmington Housing Authority (WHA) Housing Choice Vouchers as well as Rapid Housing Voucher holder, referral from Delaware State Housing Authority and Veteran voucher client.

The Premier Rapid Housing Placement Team is dedicated to assisting individuals and families in Wilmington with housing placement. They offer services such as case management, barrier assistance, and rental navigation. Those in need of placement assistance can reach the team by calling 302-429-6701 or email dahgresource@whadelaware.org.

By partnering with landlords, the team helps clients find suitable affordable housing options. These collaborations benefit landlords by aiding in tenant recruitment, ensuring property inspections meet safety standards, and facilitating secure monthly rental payments through a designated portal. To become a client or landlord partner, please contact 302-579-2925.
